Say, "Old Charles," what about that "deserted business," eh? How much money did it cost some of your friends, whom you now abuse like pick-pockets, to reinstate you to citizenship?

There were several plain drunks and considerable swearing on the streets Saturday. Prompt arrests and heavy fines are the best known remedies for such violations of the city ordinance.

The thing which presides over the Brunswick News was once a Rebel Democrat, but now pleads the "baby act" when talking about "bourbons" and kissing the feet of its Republican masters. Bah!

When you want Clothing and Gents' Furnishings, remember that Rosenstein, of Brunswick, carries the noblest lines of these goods to be found in Chariton county.

Hunt & Co. had a lot of nice business stationery printed at this office, Friday. They are moving out on modern business principles, are hustlers and are having a good trade. Call and see them.

E. L. Gamble, of Bluffs, Ill., has superseded Mr. Sanders as night operator at the station. Mr. Sanders has been transferred to Gallatin, where he is roosting on the nocturnal telegraphic perch.

Speaking of jewels and jewelry suggests that Charles Reformed Luster might give the readers of the News an interesting article on silver ware. What about that silver service set, "Old Charles?"

We call attention to a sensible communication, which appears elsewhere in this issue, from John Moorman, a sensible negro, of this place. John's colored brethren should read it and profit by its logical reasoning and sound doctrine.

MARRIED.—In the street, Sunday, near Dr. M. J. Rucker's residence, in this city, Mr. Woody F. Pippin and Miss Rosa Lee, "Squire Wheeler smilingly tying the nuptial knot. Mr. Pippin and his bride are from near Charleville. The Courier extends its usual cherry good wishes and congratulations.

There is one thing at least worse than a reformed gambler and that is a whorem Rebel Democrat which has become an exorcism upon the Republican party and which buys its drinks with the income from publishing "two-bit" slanders while assuming the role of moralist in commenting upon saloons and church members. Its name is Charles Reformed Luster.

Mr. W. T. Drace, recently from Christian county, Mo., but a former citizen of our neighbor, Howard county, has bought the Dr. C. T. Holland farm of 220 acres, just east of town, for $6,000. Mr. Drace will cultivate the north and Mr. Emerson the south half of the farm this season. During the summer a substantial dwelling house will be erected by Mr. Drace to which he will move as soon as completed. "Uncle Sam" Minich's team became frightened on the Muscle Fork road bridge at Keytesville station Sunday, and backed the wagon off of the bridge. Mr. Minich and his wife and a boy were occupants of the vehicle. Mr. and Mrs. Minich went down with the wagon, but the boy jumped. No other damage was sustained than the breaking of the coupling pole of the wagon. Fortunately.

That vile, purulent creature, known as Chas. R. Luster who is morally a wreck, socially an out-cast and politically a polecat, seems to doubt that we are sincere in our own reformation and in our attack upon the gamblers. The truth is "Old Charles" has gotten so low that sincerity and reformation are no longer attributes of his make-up. He can only see through spectacles that are adapted to men of his degraded character. As to his prediction that we will again "tackle the tiger," time alone will brand "Old Charles" as a liar and a keave.

On Monday Mrs. F. M. Veatch, of this place, gave her little 2-year-old son, Jesse, her pocket-book containing $35 to "play with." Shortly afterwards the portemonnaie and contents were missing. Mrs. Veatch was very much exercised over the loss, and little Jesse, seeing the mother's agitation, made several different statements as to where he had put the treasure, which was finally found pushed up under the bed springs on the under side of the bed. Mrs. Veatch was made happy over finding her lost wealth, and we hope she feels sufficiently elated over her good luck to subscribe for the Courier.

If the gamblers think that they can down the Courier or its editor, through the dirty columns of the Brunswick News they are deceiving themselves quite as effectually as they have deceived the victims of their gambling dens. The Courier is enlisted in behalf of right, law and good citizenship, and if the Brunswick News thinks it has anything to gain by opposing or scoffing at the Courier's course in this respect, we assure "Old Luster" that he is welcome to all the buncombe he can get out of the policy of sneering at our reformation and upholding the gamblers.

For some time past the Keytesville township board has been besieged by a number of applicants who wanted to be appointed clerk and ex-officio assessor of Keytesville township, to fill out the unexpired term of John D. Butler, who is now a resident of Dallas, Texas. All the applicants for Mr. Butler's official shoes were friends of the board, and that honorable body did not like to assume the responsibility of making three or four of their friends miserable while they could make but one happy. So it was agreed that a township primary be held and let the people decide their choice. But this scheme has been abandoned and the board will make an appointment Saturday.

CLOTHING AT COST! We propose to clean out our entire stock of Clothing, consisting of Men's, Youths' and Children's Clothing, at FIRST COST. All those in need of Clothing will do well to call and take advantage of this sale. SCOTT & PARKS.

Died. Mr. James M. Dempsey, a prominent farmer, of near Indian Grove, died at 12 o'clock, on Wednesday night of last week, of paralysis superinduced by kidney troubles. Aged 63 years, 1 month and 26 days. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. W. Herley at Bethel Baptist church, Thursday afternoon, after which Mr. Dempsey's mortal remains were laid to rest in Bethel cemetery. Deceased leaves a wife and three grown sons and a daughter to mourn the death of a kind-hearted, generous husband and devoted father, who had the Comforter with him as he passed through the dark valley of the shadow of death. Mr. Dempsey had been a consistent, upright member of the M. E. Church, South, for years, and Rev. Herley's talk on deceased's life and character were in every way worthy of the subject. Mr. Dempsey was a soldier in the Mexican war, and was also enlisted in behalf of the "lost cause" during the civil war. Peace to his quiet slumbers.

A Sure Cure for La Grippe.

A remedy that is simple and safe, rationally and scientifically prepared, acts like a charm upon the ills that are so patent now to the American people. It is not affected by any system of tariff, syndicate or combination, but it is owned and operated by home men who are daily dispensing the same to the public; who are untiring in their efforts to give every man an opportunity to avail himself of this great remedy. "Low Prices" is the name of this medicine, and can be found only at Stephens & Trammel's. Have you tried it? Hundreds have, and profit by it. The supply is inexhaustible, can be had at all times and in any quantity. The first dose is an all wool suit of clothes for $6.20. This will revive your down-trodden spirits, warm your cold backs and make poor hearts once more rejoice, that you may sing praises unto the King of Clothiers, who have done much toward bringing down prices.

Our causes are like-ones and our aims are mutual, and unless we labor to further your interests we could not expect to merit your patronage. We spend days and weeks of labor in buying our goods, that we may be able to offer them to you at prices that cannot be duplicated. We are more particular in buying our stock than you are in selecting a suit for yourself. We like to see people particular. We have a particular stock of clothing, and know that we can please the most difficult in all the details of fashion. Some dealers say that people expect too much. But these "expect too much," customers are valuable if you fill their expectations. This is what we hope to do—we even surprise them, sometimes, by giving more than they expect—a better fit—a little more style—a neater finish—better quality than they imagined possible for the money. Our stock is immense. We have Spring and Summer clothing in every style and variety. We do not have to tell you that your size is not in the market and that you will have to have a special order. But we go to our tables and get it. Never fear big man, we always have your size. Six months we have done business here, and already our trade from neighboring towns is an enviable one, for we have endless varieties from which to select, and at prices we guarantee. We mean just what we say, and have just what we advertise. Our flannel stock is immense. We can show you some of the prettiest shirts we ever saw. We have a full line of stiff and soft hats, ranging from 50c to $5.00.

We want you to come and see us. We want your trade. That is what we hum and hustle for. We are always ready and will take pleasure in showing our goods, whether you want to buy or not. Cash and one price.
